The Dolls are Now Ready To Receive You.

The Dolls will make their bows to you to-day in their third floor home. The doll store, like any other place, must be progressive if it would expand and grow. We've been selling dolls now for many years, and each year learning something more about them.

To-day we offer you as fine a collection as we've ever had in the store, and we believe as many styles as you'll get anywhere.

We couldn't begin to tell you in these columns about every doll we have, as there's as many different kinds almost-we we e going to say as there are children in Richmond, but that would be exaggerating some what-but the fact is that there's enough variety for every little girl (or boy either) to feast their eyes upon to fullness.

The little "Kick-ups" that so delight the chi dren-and grown folks, too, as they use them for p.n-cushions, &c.— are 10c, 17c, 20c and 25c.

Celiuloid Dolls—that can be undressed and given a bath when necessary with-out injuring them—25c, 39c, 50c, 75c, 89c and $1.00. Gute ittle Bath Robes for these dollies are 39c each.

LETTERS ADMITTED IN MOLINEUX CASE

Great Legal Contests Over the Barnett Correspondence Marks Course of Second Trial.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, October 22.-Dr. E. Stile Potter was the first witness at to-day's sersion of the Molineux trial. Witness admitted he was present as an expert for the prosecution and had received up to this time $1.90. Asked by former Gov-ernor Black if these facts had anything to do with the loss of ms notes since to do with the loss of las lotes since the last trial and his inability to remem-her what was said by Mrs. Rogers and Comish, Dr. Potter said he could not account for the loss of his notes.

After Police Captain George McClusky had identified exhibits of handwriting and told of his submitting them to experts, Joseph J. Koch, the keeper of the letter-box place, said that in June of 1858 he received a letter signed Roland B. Molineux, asking the cost of a private letter-box. He sent a circular co his rules and terms to Molineux, in Newark. Later a young man came to his place of business and hired a letter-box. The man gave him the name of H. Corn-

Cornish, who was standing in the body of the court-room, stood up. "Is that the man who hired the letter-box?" asked Mr. Osborne.

"Did this defendant here hire a letterbox from you?" ex-Governor Black asked.

Charles D. Allen, a chemist in the color Charles D. Allen, a chemist in the color house of H. Constant and Company, was called to tell of this association with Molfineax in Morris, Herman and Company's color house in Newark. He said Molineux had use of the laboratory.

The letter was offered in evidence after Mr Osborne had explained that it was the letter Koch received asking for the magazine studies, and to which he remanazine studies, and to which he resided by enclosing his circular, giving, among other things, the terms for a private letter-box. Ex-Governor Black objected to the admission of the letter, and Jostice Lambert reserved his decision.

W. J. Kinsley, the handwriting expert, identified some of Molineux's writing. Ind then declared that the so-called Harrier letter written to Frederick Sterns & Co., in Detroit, was written by the same and Mr. Osborne offered the letter in arnd. Mr. Osborne offered the letter in or the grounds that it is ruled out un-der the ruling of the Court of Appeals, and that it tends to connect and accuse and that it tends to connect and accuse the defendant of a crime other than that for which he is on trial. Justice Lam-bert overruled the objection, and the let-ter was read to the jury. SUFFOLK, VA., Oct, 22.—There will be no peanut trust, no combination, no community of interests, no anything during this season. That was determined upon this afternoon at a meeting in Norfolk, at which were represented some of the largest cleaners from every town in the Virginia belt. Not only did to-day's plans fall through like all the rest of them attempted this fall, but those present agreed that they would not even consider any further propositions unless the cash came at the same time.

There was a great divergence of opinion as to the scope of the combine, and there never seemed to be a chance for agreement. New York capitalists looked for did not appear at the meeting.

Notwithstanding some cleaners contend consolidation would mean a big net increase of profits, the combine plans are now finally abandoned, they say.

Charles Kemper, chief executive officer of the Freasury, who was sent to Charlottesville to examine the sites offered for the proposed public building at that place, submitted his report and recommendation to Secretary Snaw to-day. In squaking of the matter, Mr. Kemper In squaking of the matter, Mr. Kemper said: "Of course, my report will not be made puone for thirty days, and until that time I an not at liberty to give anything out. I will say this much, however, the same says that I have recommended. I think the lot I have recommended is situated most advantageously with re-gard to the business section of Char-people of that city."

This is all the official information that could be gathered, but from the representatives of the different sites that have been in Washington since the question of a choice was opened enough has been learned to indicate that there are three jois that have been urged most strongly by influential people in Charlottesville. A POPULAR SITE. The site which has had the greatest number of endorsements is the McKee stie, at the northeast corner of Fourth and Jefferson Streets. The Wheeler site, on Sixth and Main, has received notice as sixth and Main, has received today as being located in that section of the city in which the residents of the western part desire the postoffice to be crected. Then there is the site of the Jewish Synagogue, on the corner of Second and Market Streets, which is thought to be the the supplier.

in the running. The following notice was sent this morning by the Secretary of the Treasury to the postmaster at Charlottesville, who will post it in his office:

N tice is hereby given that final consileration will be given and selection made of a site for the United States gove neent building to be erected at Charle t sville, V ., and purchase thereof closed on the 22d day of November, 1902. Any persons desling to submit further statem ats in writing relative to any of the siles (ffere), are informed that they will be given consideration if on file bef re final action.

L. M. SHAW, Secretary. KICKING AT RANDOM.

This is the famous notice that has been ausing so mich unfivorable comment. and has been held up to such ridicule of late. It is intended to prevent the kicking of disgruntled persons after the site is chosen. The department recided to give the people of each town thirty days to do their kicking.
No mention is made of the site that is cheson but the complainants are left to ki k at random. Hence the announcement at what aprears to be the lessness of the notice.
